

TAKE 2022 Theory and Applications in the Knowledge Economy – July, 6th – 8th, Porto, Portugal

Main Topic – The Knowledge Economy in the Post Covid-19 Era

TAKE Spirit – bridging between theory and practice.

TAKE is an international scientific conference devoted to the multidisciplinary study of the knowledge economy. In particular, it intends to analyze the relation and the gap between theories and practices in the knowledge economy of the 21st century.

As researchers, lecturers and practitioners, we know that theory evolves as long as practice demands. And we also know that answers for social problems require multidisciplinary efforts. Many times social scientists live in silos. We believe not only theory should meet practice but also scientist with different perspectives should meet.

Therefore, we bring together researchers, practitioners, and industry experts to discuss, advance, and shape the future of the knowledge economy.

Following the experience of previous TAKE conferences, we will put together experts from different fields such as Human Resource Development, Human Resource Management, Intellectual Capital, Knowledge Management, Logistics, Retail, Public Policy, Innovation and Entrepreneurship, Business Models, SMEs, Competitiveness and Accounting. This diversity and wideness transforms TAKE into an unique forum. The closeness and friendship between participants is another element that turns TAKE conferences into unforgettable scientific events.

TAKE 2022 – The Knowledge Economy in the Post Covid-19 Era.

In 2022, we will welcome participants in Porto, Portugal. The conference will be hosted by Universidade Portucalense: <https://www-en.upt.pt/>.

UNIVERSIDADE PORTUCALENSE

Our aim is to build an interesting scientific program that brings together research and business practice reflecting on the impact of the Covid in the economy and society within the 24 streams we selected.

Due to the diversity and quality of the participants TAKE 2022 will be a unique forum to discuss the current situation world affairs from a multidisciplinary point of view of social sciences.

A small jubilee for the scientific turtle and its wonderful team to celebrate.

TAKE is organized by a group of friends who began working together more than 10 years ago. TAKE 2022 is the sixth edition of TAKE, following previous editions in Aveiro, Portugal (2016), Zagreb, Croatia (2017), Poznan, Poland (2018), and Vienna Austria (2019) and Online (2021). Information about the previous events may be found under the heading Previous Events. It has been a hard ride and as with all the turtles a slow, but we made good progress.

And while we are already planning much ahead, we really want to celebrate in presence and in great fashion our first small jubilee – a Iron wedding, according to the tradition. In TAKE theory “marries” practice and great scholars from fields usually apart meet for three days in the Summer for a unique scientific and human event.

So let us meet on July 6th 2022 in Porto. Save the date
